Our top watering stop is Akademi; a modern bar-cum-library built of concrete and beautifully lit. A turntable spins vintage records, softening the sharp edges. Our favourite cocktail you ask? The Mamarita, with its sweet sour rim served in a hand made ceramic vessel. Other talking points? Soft lights illuminate shelves filled with jars that resemble chemistry experiments and turn out to be infusions of arak, a surprising ingredient in many of the cocktails. A definite vibe happening here, a scene set to seduce and happily so, it really works.
